S.I. No. 531 of 2025.

CONTROL OF EXCISABLE PRODUCTS (AMENDMENT) REGULATIONS 2025

These Regulations concern the implementation of Section 104(2) of Finance Act 2001 (No. 7 of 2001), which permits tobacco products to be brought into the State by a private individual for his or her own use – provided the individual has acquired the tobacco products, duty-paid, in another EU Member State, and transported and accompanied them into the State – and which grants full relief from Irish excise duty on the tobacco products in those circumstances. The provision reflects EU legislation, as set out in Council Directive (EU) 2020/262 of 19 December 2019 laying down general arrangements for excise duty.

The purpose of these Regulations is to strengthen control measures so as to address identified risks regarding increased abuse of the provision. Such abuse is threatening and undermining the effectiveness of Ireland's tobacco tax in supporting the public health and taxation policy objectives for which it is designed, particularly its role in disincentivising smoking, especially among young people. High taxation and high pricing of tobacco is promoted by the World Health Organisation as a highly effective policy approach for governments seeking to reduce smoking prevalence, and this is the driver of Ireland's taxation policy regarding tobacco.

Council Directive (EU) 2020/262 recognises that excise duty levels for tobacco products vary, sometimes significantly, between EU Member States due to a number of factors, such as the different fiscal and public health policies the Member States pursue. The Directive acknowledges that Member States, therefore, may need to take measures to contain risks associated with cross-border flows of excisable products by private individuals, where the risks are facilitating tax fraud, avoidance or abuse, that threatens or undermines public policy or the protection of human health and life.

These Regulations amend the Control of Excisable Products Regulations 2024 (S.I. No. 36 of 2024) by inserting a new Regulation 48A, which deals specifically with tobacco products in the context of Section 104(2) of the Finance Act 2001. Regulation 48A references various matters to which the Revenue Commissioners shall have regard in determining whether tobacco products have been brought into the State by a private individual for his or her own use and, therefore, are permitted to be brought in and to avail of the excise relief. While most of these matters referenced were included in previous legislation (including, most recently, the 2024 Regulations), the new Regulation 48A also provides that where the quantity of tobacco products a person brings into the State is more than certain levels specified in existing legislation – 800 cigarettes, 400 cigarillos, 200 cigars, 1 kilogramme of other tobacco products (e.g. 'roll-your-own' tobacco) – this will be regarded as evidence that the products are not for the individual's own use. Accordingly, in such situations, the full amount will be liable to seizure.

These Regulations come into operation on 9 December 2025.
