Review of the performance by the Higher Education and Training Awards Council of its functions by the National Qualifications Authority of Ireland

The Ministers for Education of the European Higher Education Area meeting in Bergen in May 2005 adopted standards and guidelines for quality assurance in higher education. They also committed themselves to a model of peer review for quality assurance in higher education. They also committed themselves to a model of peer review for quality assurance agencies on a national basis. The Higher Education and Training Awards Council (HETAC) is being reviewed under the provisions of the Qualifications (Education and Training) Act 1999 and as candidate for membership of the Register of External Quality Assurance Agencies operating in Europe. As an initial step in the review HETAC is undertaking a self-evaluation.

HETAC awards qualifications at all levels of higher education and training up to PhD level.

HETAC's main functions include:

- Setting standards for higher education and training awards
- Validation/accreditation of higher education and training programmes
- Monitoring of institutional quality assurance procedures
- Delegation of awarding powers to recognised institutions
- Ensuring that student assessment procedures are fair and consistent
- Ensuring that arrangements are in place in commercial education and training institutions to protect learners where programmes validated by HETAC cease to be provided.

Persons and organisations wishing to comment on how effectively HETAC has performed these or any other of its functions since its establishment in June 2001 are invited to do so in writing or through our website, before January 23rd, 2006.

The full terms of reference for the review, which is being carried out under the auspices of the National Qualifications Authority of Ireland, can be found on our website, www.hetac.ie.
