PUBLIC CONSULTATION PRIOR TO THE COMMENCEMENT OF SECTIONS 48 AND 49 OF THE CONSUMER PROTECTION ACT 2007

Micheál Martin T.D., Minister for Enterprise, Trade and Employment wishes to announce a public consultation in relation to the commencement of Sections 48 and 49 of the Consumer Protection Act 2007.

Section 48 of the Act prohibits traders who accept payment for goods and services by a number of different relevant payment methods from imposing additional charges on the price of goods and services solely by reason of customers choosing to make payment by one relevant payment method over another.

Section 49 obliges traders who do impose additional charges solely by reason of customers paying for goods and services by a particular relevant method (and who by virtue of only accepting payment by that one relevant method are not subject to the prohibitions of Section 48) to ensure that such charges are included in the price of such goods and services, which must be represented as a single amount.

Before commencing Sections 48 and 49 later this year, the Minister is seeking the views of the public, payment card holders, retailers and other interested parties on a number of issues. For example the Minister is seeking views as to what additional methods of payment, other than the methods of cash, credit cards and direct debit already specified in Section 48, should be prescribed as relevant payment methods for the purposes of the legislation. The Minister is also anxious to identify any issues which would require guidance arising from the commencement of Sections 48 and 49.

A consultation paper detailing the various issues upon which the Minister is inviting views is available on the Department of Enterprise, Trade and Employment website at www.entemp.ie/commerce/consumer/issues.htm or can be applied for by telephone at (01) 6312617.

Comments on the consultation paper should be submitted by close of business on Friday, 7th September 2007 by electronic format to conspol@entemp.ie, or by post to Consumer Protection Act Consultation, Competition and Consumer Policy Section, Department of Enterprise, Trade and Employment, Earlsfort Centre, Lr. Hatch Street, Dublin 2.

Please note that all comments, observations and submissions will be subject to the Freedom of Information Acts 1997-2003.
Consequently, when submitting material, parties should identify any information which they do not wish to have released together with an accompanying explanation.

For further information and assistance, please contact the Competition and Consumer Policy Section of the Department of Enterprise, Trade and Employment on (01) 6312617.
